PRICE FIVE CENTS

BADLY NEEDED RAINS ARRIVE THIS MORNING

Badly needed showers began this morning about 5 o'clock and continued through much of the morning bringing the most rain this section has received in many weeks.

By 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the showers had totaled close to a half inch and the rain continued.

Hot weather and a severe drought that has extended from early May have parched the countryside in recent weeks.

Today's showers interrupted sour cherry picking operations that began Monday morning in hundreds of county orchards but even the fruitmen were not complaining about the change in their schedules.

WELCOMED BY FARMERS

Farmers welcomed the showers that were badly needed by cornfields and short pastures. The showers renewed hopes of second and third crops of hay from fields that have not received enough rain since the first crop was harvested to produce a new stand of grass or clover.

The driest May on record in Gettysburg was followed by the driest June in a decade. The first week of July produced only 14 hundredths of an inch of rain at The Gettysburg Times weather station and some parts of the county missed those showers on the evening of July 3 while some areas received a downpour.

Total rainfall here in May and June was only 1.83 inches which was almost six inches short of normal.

The dry weather's effects have been made more severe by the hot weather that has accompanied the dry spell. May had two days at 90 degrees or above. There were six days of 90-degree weather in June and there have been three days of it in July. The record for the year was set at 97 degrees the afternoon of June 30. In addition, there were numerous days when the maximum temperatures were in the high 80's.

SHOWERS ELSEWHERE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thunderstorms and showers swept scattered sections of the nation east of the Rockies today, again hitting Midwest areas which have been pounded by stormy weather the past few days.

Severe thunderstorms struck the area of North Platte, Neb., during the night with heavy rain and winds up to 81 miles an hour. Heaviest rainfall Tuesday was reported in sections of Lower Michigan, northern Indiana and northeastern Illinois. Wind storms caused extensive property damage in sections of Nebraska.

The storms moved into the Ohio Valley and the southern Appalachian region. Rain was reported in parts of the plateau states.

Temperatures soared to 110 in the arid Southwest Tuesday and readings of 100 and higher were reported in south central areas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the low 50s in northern Maine to 95 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Receive Report

On Map Program

The Adams County Commissioners Tuesday afternoon received a progress report on the map program by Paul Harvey, director of the mapping division, and made plans to go to Harrisburg Friday morning to inspect a printer-reader for use in the department. The machine is similar to a microfilm reader and permits close study of aerial maps and other details of data.

Harvey reported that all aerial photography has been completed by American Air Surveys, Inc., Pittsburgh, and that the photographs are now ready to be plotted at the local office. The program includes approximately 19,000 parcels of real estate. The commissioners approved payment of $12,498.10 in regular bills and $113.90 from the liquid fuel account.

Mount Receives Grant Of $25,000

Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, president of Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, announced today that the college has received a $25,000 grant from the Frank J. Lewis Foundation of Chicago.

The source of the funds out of which the grant is made is the residuary trust estate established under the will of the late Frank J. Lewis. 31 HOMES TO BE HOSTS TO AFS STUDENTS

Thirty-one homes in and near Gettysburg were ready today to play host to 36 foreign exchange students expected to arrive here by bus this evening at 9:30 o'clock. They will be guests of the community until they leave Saturday morning for Washington, D. C., where a visit with President Johnson will be on the agenda.

The American Field Service will bring the 17 girls and 19 boys from a score of foreign countries here as part of an end-of-stay tour before returning to their home countries. For the last year they have been enrolled in high schools in the Pacific northwest. They began their current bus trip in Pendleton, Ore.

The students will spend Thursday with their host families until 6:30 p.m. when the Exchange Club will provide a picnic supper at the Recreation Park for the group. On Friday morning they will tour the battlefield, courtesy of Battlefield Tours, Inc. On Friday afternoon they will visit the National Museum, the Cannon Museum and see the cyclorama painting of Pickett's Charge at the Visitor Center.

LITTLESTOWN HAS GROUP

They will leave Gettysburg by bus Saturday morning at 9 o'clock for Washington.

The local committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. George Gilbert, Dr. Russell Rosenberg and John Slentz.

Littlestown also is playing host this week to a similar group of foreign students concluding a year's visit in the United States. Thirty-two students and their chaperones arrived in Littlestown Monday evening and were taken to 29 homes of families of St. Paul's Lutheran Church there to be guests until Thursday morning. A battlefield tour and visits to industrial plants in the area, a swimming party, dance and covered dish supper at a Littlestown school building were on the entertainment program there.

Wet Highway Is Blamed For Crash

This morning's showers contributed to a $600 auto crash this morning at 6:15 o'clock at an intersection on the Fairfield Rd. when one auto skidded into another.

State police said the cars involved were operated by Dolores E. Kump, Gettysburg R. 2, and Mary H. Guiden, also of R. 2. The mishap occurred at an intersection seven miles west of here as the Kump car was going west on the Fairfield Rd. and the Guiden car was entering the highway from the south. The Kump car is reported to have skidded on the wet road and struck the Guiden auto.

Daryl N. Kump, aged two, Gettysburg R. 2, a passenger in the Kump car, suffered a contusion of the nose but he did not require medical attention. Damage to the two machines totaled $600, police said.

Lutherans Are Unhappy Over Supreme Court's Bible Reading Decision

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court decisions banning required reading of the Bible and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools mark a new era for Christianity, says the Lutheran Church in America.

This observation was contained in a statement adopted, without comment, as church law Tuesday night by the some 700 delegates to the church's biennial convention.

The statement, prepared by the LCA's executive council, called the decisions a "watershed" and read in part:

"They (the decisions) signalize the fact that the United States of America, like many other nations, is past the place where underlying Christian culture and beliefs are assumed in its life."

"DILUTE FAITH"

"The more we attempt as Christians or Americans to insist on common denominator religious exercises or instruction in the public schools," the statement reads, "the greater risk we run of diluting our faith and contributing to a vague religiosity which identifies religion with patriotism and becomes a national folk religion."

In other convention matters during the day, the LCA:

1. Recommended that parishes avoid raising funds through such "commercial activities" as bazaars and card parties.

2. Outlined its position on apportionment—that part of a local congregation's budget that is sent to the denomination's international headquarters.

MASTER PLAN

3. Adopted a master plan for the church's theological seminaries.

The delegates said such activities as card parties and dinners give "a false image of the church." They voted to adopt a

Erect Gravestones For Early Dutch Pastor And Revolutionary Soldier

The county history committee of the Adams County Historical Society has announced the erection of two gravestones in the northern (Osborn's) Low Dutch Cemetery about two miles east of Hunterstown in Straban Twp. Miss Ruth McIlhenney is chairman of the committee that has been in charge of the work.

One stone is to the memory of the Rev. Cornelius Cosine, a Dutch Reformed minister who served his people in this county during Revolutionary War days, and the other marker has been erected for David Vanderbilt, a Revolutionary War soldier who marched from Marsh Creek settlement before the Declaration of Independence.

The Rev. Mr. Cosine was born November 4, 1718, in Long Island, the great-grandson of the emigrant Cozyrn Gerritszen. Nothing ever has been learned about where he obtained his education or by whom he was ordained. It was not until 1772 that he was formally called to the minister of the colony in which is now Adams County, a position he maintained until 1779.

SERVED EARLY CHURCH

From the land records it is apparent that he was among the early Dutch families in the settlement. On Oct. 3, 1767, he was warranted a tract of 208 acres and on June 30, 1773, another tract of 254 acres. His lands were called Pleasant Plain and historical society records show his residence was on the west bank of Swift Run on the north side of the road from York to Nichols' Gap via Gettysburg. The road ran along the current site of sections of the Western Maryland Railroad. His lands extended from Swift Run to the Sugartown Rd., embracing the farms of Schulteis, Haverly, Stipe, Adams and others today. It is on the latter tract that church building was built and subsequently liquidated by Act of 1817. The Rev. Mr. Cosine died in 1786 and his will is on State Highways Department workmen are applying a three-inch blacktop surface to the Hanover Rd. from the Gettysburg borough line to the Rt. 15 bypass. Later a section of the same highway in the Square Corners area will be surfaced, a total of about five miles for the two sections.

State Highways Maintenance Superintendent Charles N. Lightner said the Hanover Rd. work is part of a summer and fall program that will see close to 120 miles of county roads rebuilt, resurfaced or given surface treatments of tar and chips.

CARLISLE ST. LISTED

The tar and chip treatment which will be underway almost continuously throughout the summer will cover a total of 97 miles of secondary roads.

Carlisle St. will be given a three-inch bituminous concrete surface application from Lincoln Square to the borough line. Mr. Lightner said with the work tentatively scheduled for the week of July 20.

Reconstruction of W. Lincoln Ave. which has been on the boards for some time will likely not come until next year, the superintendent said.

REGULAR CREWS

The big summer road work program is being handled by regular employees, the superintendent said. Only a few temporary employees were added, he said.

Carlisle St. in New Oxford is to be reconstructed for three blocks north of the square, Lightner said, and the work is being scheduled for later this month.

This fall the Lincoln Highway is to be widened and resurfaced for a distance of 4 1/2 miles west of New Oxford.

MOTOR PAVES JOB

Another road job in progress is surface work being done on the road from Wensville to Peach Glen for a distance of 4.75 miles.

There are a number of motor paver jobs slated for the county. Already completed is the 4 1/2 miles from Greenmount to the Fairfield Rd. at the stone church.

There will be a 1 1/2-mile motor paver job in the Gardens area and the Buchanan Valley Rd. above the Arendtsville Park will be surfaced for a three-mile stretch. A 2 1/2-mile stretch of the Hunterstown-Hampton Rd. also will be done.

All of the summer road work in the county scheduled to date is being done by regular maintenance crews. Expected contract jobs have been delayed at the state level.

36,728 Visitors Here July 3, 4, 5

Gettysburg continues to be a center of attraction for tourists, according to figures released today by the National Park Service.

During the 4th of July weekend, July 3-5, there were 36,728 visitors here. While this represents a decrease from the 49,728 tourists who came here over the same weekend last year, the increase in visitors in 1963 was accounted for by the additional number who came to witness the centennial program.

Figures on the number of tourists in Gettysburg during the first six months of this year stand at 839,999, an increase of 3,610 over the 836,389 visitors who came here during the comparable period last year.

All indications point to the fact that the town is maintaining its position as a mecca for tourists.

12 NEWCOMERS SELECTED FOR CONGO POSTS

By ROBIN MANNOCK
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe says he has lined up a new government for the Congo made up of 12 men who have never held Cabinet posts. It was not known whether President Joseph Kasavubu would accept Tshombe's lineup.
The former president of Katanga, who led his province in a breakaway attempt that United Nations troops ended, announced Tuesday night he would hold four key posts.
Tshombe was named premier-designate by Kasavubu on Monday, 10 days after returning from a year of voluntary exile in Spain. In addition to premier, Tshombe said he would be foreign minister, information minister and minister of planning and coordination.

CARETAKERS
Ex-Premier Cyrille Adoula and his Cabinet, who resigned on the Congo's fourth independence day June 30, continue in a caretaker status until a new government takes over.
Tshombe said his government of 12 "new and dynamic men" will concentrate on pacifying the big central African nation torn by tribal rivalries and revolts, some aided by Communist China.
After feverish consultations since his return, Tshombe, 44, has claimed support from all major political groups including extremist exiles of the dissident "National Liberation Committee."
But leaders of this latter group in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo across the Congo River, have indicated strong reservations or opposition to Tshombe.

NEGOTIATORS TO MEET ON STRIKE
NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP)—Negotiators in the 17-day-old strike by the Teamsters Union against new car haulers meet again today to discuss what one spokesman called "bread and butter issues."

A spokesman for the 18 east coast Teamsters locals involved in the walkout said after a seven hour bargaining session Tuesday that some progress was being made.
He did not list specific contract provisions under discussion but indicated the main point of contention involved "bread and butter issues affecting the pocketbook."
The teamsters locals began their strike against the east coast auto transporters June 22 although locals in other parts of the country ratified a national contract negotiated by the union president James R. Hoffa.

$288,400 IN UNCUT GEMS ARE STOLEN

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—A $288,400 shipment of uncut diamonds was reported stolen from Shannon International Airport over the weekend in a move so smooth the loss was not discovered for 48 hours.

Interpol, the international police organization, was asked to help solve the disappearance of the diamonds, flown Friday from Amsterdam to Shannon aboard a New York-bound KLM jet.

Loss of the gems was discovered Tuesday night when a representative of the consignees, the Ennis Diamond Co. of Shannon, called for the ship.

He was told a well-dressed man speaking with a foreign accent called at the freight office Sunday. They said the man said he was from the diamond company and, as everything appeared in order, signed the necessary documents and was handed the package.

Paul Spitzer, 38, Ennis manager, said, "I can confirm the diamonds have been stolen but I cannot say any more as it might hinder the police in their investigations."

Spitzer, a native of Amsterdam, said his firm cuts and polishes diamonds at Ennis, 15 miles from the airport.

FIND 2 TONS OF OLD MAIL

WATER MILL, N.Y. (AP)—After delivering mail for 30 years, postman Lorin F. Shipper apparently decided to deliver only the important-looking letters and let the rest pile up.

Authorities found two tons of unopened mail, mostly periodicals, circulars and advertising matter, in Shipper's garage and in some ancient automobiles parked on his lawn. It was postmarked 1953 and 1954. About 10 per cent was first-class mail.

Roy Peterson, Southampton postmaster, said there were no complaints of missed mail. "The carrier must have delivered all the mail he thought important and just put the rest away," he said Tuesday.

Shipper, 75, who retired in 1953, told postal officials he couldn't recall how the leftover mail got there.

Peterson said that since the five-year statute of limitations had expired there would be no prosecution.

Library hours are 6 to 9 o'clock. The library contains more than 3,200 volumes and a complete encyclopedia. Straup said the Carol Kiser Memorial shelves also will be open for student use. This is the first time the facilities have been made available during the vacation period.

report by the Commission on Stewardship which said such affairs "contaminate the relationship between Christian giving and the church's mission."

Recognizing that some of the church's congregations and institutions would be financially hurt by an abrupt discontinuance of such fund-raising methods, the commission said: "These institutions are invited to move toward the development of other means of publicity and interpretation so that the commercial activities can be abandoned as rapidly as possible."

This same commission, in defining its position on apportionment, suggested no particular percentage of contributions. It said: "Congregations are expected to recognize and treat their apportionment as a moral responsibility of such urgency that all needful steps be taken to meet it."

Turning to the subject of theological seminaries, the delegates adopted a master plan which, in effect, endorses the present location of seminaries in Philadelphia, Chicago, Berkeley, Calif.; Columbia, S. C., and Waterloo, Ont.

Still left uncertain were the long-range future of seminaries in Gettysburg, Pa.; Springfield, Ohio; Minneapolis, Minn.; and Saskatoon, Sask.

The latter five seminaries were assured of no change in their status at least until 1970 when the master plan will again be reviewed, a spokesman said.

file at York. He had 11 children, all of whom married spouses of Dutch ancestry, all of whom eventually migrated to the mid-west. He was buried in the northeast corner of the Low Dutch Cemetery, apparently without any marker ever having been erected.

The 30x18x12-inch marble memorial recently erected there bears his name and the years of his birth and death. It was made possible largely by a gift of Mrs. Betty Yenne, San Antonio, Tex., a great-great-granddaughter of the Rev. Mr. Cosine, and Mrs. Myrtle Yaste, Franklin, Ind., and Miss Helen Burcaw, VanWert, O., also descendants of the Rev. Mr. Cosine. There was also a donation from Mrs. Ralph Shryock, Gettysburg R. 6, Russell Osborne, New Oxford R. 2, contributed the materials and labor for the stone's base.

SOUGHT PENSION

The society's data on David Vanderbilt shows his name sometimes was spelled Westerfelt. He probably was born in New Jersey about 1756. In the will of David Vandine of Straban Twp., recorded in York, Vanderbilt is willed a gun, Dutch Bible, a book and 100 acres of land. This land was the tract called Flatbush, warranted to David Van Duyn in 1783, currently owned by Robert Weikert and others.

According to old tax lists he had about 180 acres of land and in the 1783 and 1800 lists he is shown as a single man. There is no record he ever married. His name appears on county tax lists through 1824 with his land holdings dwindling and finally sold to George Lashells. His name disappears from the tax list in 1824 and does not appear again until 1833 when he came before court in the old courthouse on the square here to apply for a pension for service rendered in the Revolutionary War. His account, much of it in his own words is in his declaration in the National Archives.

The statement shows he enlisted for six months in the service of the U. S. by joining the Flying Camp about the last of June, 1776, in the company commanded by Capt. John Paxton in the regiment of Col. Richard McCallister with other officers named Kennedy and Clark. He marched with the company from Marsh Creek through York and Lancaster, thence to New Jersey. He was sick and did not cross the river to Trenton with Washington on his famous Christmas Eve assault.

SERVED WITH GW

He was discharged at the end of his enlistment after having been in several skirmishes with the British. In September, 1777,

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Auxiliary Firemen's Auxiliary: A Women's auxiliary of the Fairfield Fire Company was organized Thursday evening in the Fairfield fire engine house. Sixty-seven women became charter members. Meetings will be held monthly in the engine house. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. C. L. Sheads; vice president, Mrs. J. W. Martin; secretary, Miss Gladys Walter; and treasurer, Mrs. M. F. Stoner.

Enlarged Museum: George D. Rosensteel, owner-director of seum, has announced the opening of his new fire-proof display building and map room. The second story of the building, arranged in balcony effect, looks down upon the first floor which contains the world's largest relief map of the Gettysburg battlefield. The map, nearly three times as large as any other Gettysburg map in existence, has been under construction for over two years, and was built under the supervision of Rosensteel and his son, Joseph. Young Rosensteel has perfected a system of lights in connection with the map whereby an electrical pageant of the battle is shown every thirty minutes. There are 314 lights on the map, 175 switches controlling them. Two miles of wire was used in making the connections. With the opening of the new building Gettysburg now has the largest collection of American Civil War relics owned by any one man. This is the elder Rosensteel's 44th year as a collector and 67 display cases are required to show the collection. Joseph Rosensteel will leave tonight for the New York World's Fair grounds where on Sunday he will participate in the exercises commemorating the memory of General Longstreet. Rosensteel, who was appointed director-general of the Longstreet Memorial Association in April will be in the reviewing stand during the military review that will inaugurate a day's program honoring the name of General Lee's chief lieutenant. The review will be followed by a luncheon in the Ford building on the Fair grounds. Rosensteel will speak at the luncheon which is being given by the Ford Motor company in honor of the Longstreet Memorial Association.

Large Donation By Hanover: A new building to house Central Catholic High School of McSherrystown, the donation of Charles J. Delone, Hanover attorney, was announced Sunday afternoon by the Most Rev. Geo. L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, at dedication services for the St. Mary's grade school building, McSherrystown. More than 3,000 persons attended the services. The building will cost approximately $200,000 and will serve high school students of the following nine Catholic parishes: St. Vincent's and St. Joseph's, Hanover; Sacred Heart, Conowingo; St. Mary's, New Oxford; St. Aloysius, Littlestown; St. Joseph's, Bonneauville; St. Francis Xavier, Gettysburg; and Paradise Rectory-St. Mary's, Abbotstown.

Miss Louise Lower entertained 12 of the employees of the G. C. Murphy Co. Wednesday evening at her home in Cash-town in honor of Miss Marie Rosensteel whose marriage to J. Melchior Sheads will be an event of the near future. Miss Rosensteel was tendered a miscellaneous shower. The guests

Today's Talk

YES AND NO

How few of us come to realize the significance of a decisive yes or no! Yet each word is extremely indicative of the character of the one who makes use of it. Carlyle once wrote a famous essay on the "Everlasting No."

So many of us try to "duck" these words, try to creep around the corner from them — fearful of their use. We say "perhaps," or "I think so," or "I'll have to think it over." It takes courage to utter either "yes" or "no" — at the right time. But each word is of no value unless used decisively.

You don't have to speculate upon the sort of a person who has early learned the art of saying yes or no — and meaning it, at the right time. The entire mind clears the moment that an honest decision has been made. And so much time is saved by a decisive yes or no, as the case may be. There is also no guessing as to where you stand.

Putting facts and authority behind the decisions that we make, furnishes us with personal prestige and sets us apart. Weaklings and cowards resort to anything but a straightforward yes or no. They are afraid to declare themselves, so they remain stagnant, neutralized, and flabby-minded. Not so with those who have learned to say yes or no — and feel it.

These two small words become so important at times that they stand out like traffic lights — to be obeyed. Often they mark the way between success and failure, becoming the signposts to character. There is a certain joy to be attached to the use of either of these significant words, for they indicate instantly one's caliber of mind.

Both thrills and chills accompany the use of these words. They bring to experience both joy and sorrow. The youth asks: "Do you love me? Will you marry me?" Then it is that they thrills! And the no chills. Throughout all our days, however, we experience the same reactions. Yes and no are definite.

Just Folks

THE WISE OR THE KIND ACT
He had been fooled so many times
He thought to closer watch his dimes.

It bothered him at night to think
Sometimes his money went for drink,
And those who begged for meat and bread
Weren't all as hungry as they said.
Henceforth for every kindly deed
He'd first investigate the need.

Upon the next who asked for bread
He coldly stared and shook his head,
And then was troubled all day long
By wondering was he right or wrong
And wishing, wrong or right, that he Had harkened to the poor man's plea.

Said he: "Since proof must be deferred,
One should take hunger at its word."
"He treads a dubious path who tries
At once to be both kind and wise;
For children cold and weak and ill
Can't always bide their time until
Some calm committee person comes
To count their fingers, toes and thumbs,
And hungry men can't always wait
Till donors shroud investigate."

Barrier Is Too Far For Prince's Photos

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip came home from the Malawi independence celebration today and paused at the airport for the usual photographs.

Nine photographers were on hand, but not one raised a camera. The Ministry of Aviation had put them behind a security barrier 50 yards from the prince.

"If we had photographed him," said one, "he would have looked about as big as a match head."

The queen's husband finally walked to a car to be driven to Buckingham Palace. An airport spokesman told the cameramen it wouldn't happen again.

Dog Commands Cabin Cruiser

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three Coast Guardmen wrestled command of a drifting cabin cruiser from a protesting dog Tuesday.

Police said the dog's owner, Don R. Hammit, had gone ashore and forgot to tie up the boat, which drifted into San Francisco Bay. Hammit and the dog, Keoki, were pinched. Hammit, charged with drunkenness and mischief, went free on $68 bail. The erstwhile canine skipper was sprung for $3.50, the standard fee for impounded animals.

Showers Aid Growth Of State Farm Crops

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service says showers in various sections of the state last week aided growth of farm crops.

The rainfall, extremely heavy in some areas, resulted in marked improvement of legumes and grasses in several localities where growth had slowed to a near standstill, it said in its weekly crop report released Tuesday.

PARIS (AP)—George Paques, 50, a former French press officer for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has been convicted of spying for the Soviet Union and sentenced to life in prison.

In rejecting the prosecution's demand for the death penalty, the French state security court apparently accepted defense arguments that Paques was motivated by misguided patriotism. Paques, was arrested last August. He admitted passing documents to Soviet agents but said he hoped to prevent Soviet misunderstanding of the Western Allies' true intentions.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist air force said today it would continue reconnaissance flights over Communist China despite the loss of another U2 plane, the third claimed by the Communists.

Peking Radio said the high-altitude U2 was shot down at noon Tuesday. There was unofficial speculation in Taipei that the plane had been downed by a ground-to-air missile, but the Nationalist air force would say only that it "met with an accident."

LONDON (AP)—The channel French schoolchildren an unexpected thrill today. It ran aground off the south coast of Britain.

The rising tide refloated the 2,404-ton ship and the children were landed at Newhaven Pier. There were no casualties.

INGE DRAMA IS AT TOTEM POLE

William H. Putsch, director of the Totem Pole Playhouse, is offering summer entertainment this week in "Picnic," a romance by William Inge.

In a setting by Don Remacle in the yards of two families and unusual lighting arrangements by Richard Merriman, the action takes place in a small Kansas town on Labor Day. The yards are owned by Billie Heffner, playing her first role of the season as the daughter tied down by an invalid mother, and Arline Anders as the attractive mother of Millie Owens, a tomboy daughter, well played by Karen Johnson, and Madge, the "pretty one," played by Pamela Murphy.

Hal Carter, the virile itinerant ne'er-do-well, who drops in, sets all the feminine hearts aflutter until he takes off with Madge and breaks the heart of her hometown boy friend, Alan, played by Tom McKenna. Jeane Stapleton is excellent as Rosemary Sydney, the old maid school teacher who rooms at the Owens and who covers her longing for a home and husband by a light manner until she finally "puts it on the line" to her long-time country storekeeper boy friend, Howard, played by Arden Kiser. Mildred Hornbaker and Maureen Flanagan, as teacher friends, and Mark Lonow as "Bomber," the paper boy, complete the cast.

This is listed as a show for adults but it is one of the best things Putsch has done.—ETB.

OPEN MUSICAL SHOW MONDAY

Richard North Gage's Allenberry Players launch their summer musical festival on the Boiling Springs.

DONNA CURTIS

Spings stage with Jerome Kern's tuneful "Leave It To Jane," opening Monday evening.

The role of Jane Witherspoon, the heroine of this tale about life in a small college town, will be taken by Donna Curtis, who has been starring in Allenberry musical productions for the past four seasons. Miss Curtis, who has been seen in "Student Prince," "Carouse!" and "Oklahoma!" among others, has toured extensively with the famed American Savoyards Company, exponents of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. Stephen Lloyd, formerly of the St. Louis Municipal Opera Company, who last year made his Allenberry debut in "Desert Song," is returning to play Bill Hicks, the football hero, who provides the romantic interest for Miss Curtis.

Others in the case are Yolanda Bartoli, Jeri Barto, Arien Snyder, David Brubaker and Reginald Rowland Jr.

The Kern score includes such tunes as "A Peach of Life," "Leave It To Jane," "Siren's Song," "Sir Galahad" and "Cleopatter."

Eagles Trade Peaks And Linebacker Bob Harrison For Two Steelers Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles traded full-back Clarence Peaks and linebacker Bob Harrison to the Pittsburgh Steelers today for flanker back Red Mack and defensive halfback Glenn Glass.

Coach Joe Kuharich said the Eagles' sixth major deal since he became coach of the National Football League team in March was "a straight two for two trade designed to strengthen the club's defense and provide a back-up man for first string flanker Ron Goodwin."

Departure of the 29-year-old Peaks, who was drafted No. 1 by the Eagles in 1957, had been rumored for some time. It was thought, however, that the fullback from Michigan State might remain after Kuharich recently dealt another fullback, Ted Dean, to Minnesota for four players.

Kuharich said either Ollie Matson or Tom Woodeshick would back up first string fullback Earl Gros, who came here along with center Jim Ringo from Green Bay in a trade that sent rookie linebacker Leroy Caffey to the Packers.

ENDS HOUSECLEANING

The trading of Peaks virtually completes the housecleaning of the stars who led the Eagles to the 1960 NFL title and a runner-up spot in the East in 1961. Kuharich now has traded flanker Tommy McDonald, quarterback Sonny Jurgensen and Peaks, all acquired in the 1957 draft.

Peaks led the 1960 team in ground gaining with 465 yards and was notable for his blocking. But he has been bothered in recent years with a variety of injuries. Last season he shared the fullbacking duties with Dean.

The 27-year-old Harrison, drafted No. 2 from the University of Oklahoma by San Francisco in 1959, was traded to Philadelphia in 1962. He suffered a neck injury last season and played very little.

4TH YEAR IN LOOP

Mack, who played for Kuharich at Notre Dame, will be in his fourth year in the league. Glass, 24-year-old former Tennessee star, came to Pittsburgh from Canada two years ago after the Chicago Bears gave up on him. He also is a punt and kickoff return specialist.

Kuharich now has given up nine players and acquired 13 in his trading. He sent McDonald to Dallas for linemen Lynn Hoyer and John Myers and place-kicker Sam Baker; Jurgensen and defensive back Jimmy Carr to Washington for quarterback Norman Snead and defensive back Claude Crabbe; tackle J. D. Smith to Detroit for tackle Floyd Peters and Matson, and Dean to Minnesota for defensive backs Terry Kosens and Chuck Lamson, defensive end Don Hultz and halfback Ray Poage.

UAW BEGINS TALKS WITH AM. MOTORS

By CHARLES C. CAIN
DETROIT (AP)—A United Auto Workers bargaining team headed by Union President Walter P. Reuther opened contract talks today with American Motors Corp.—the firm which provided a dramatic breakthrough in 1961 negotiations.

Talks with the Big Three car makers—Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.—began last week. AMC is the smallest of the major car producers.

Company spokesmen would give no advance hints of the position AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman would take in today's opening round. Last time around, Cushman and Michigan's Republican Gov. George W. Romney, then president of the company, authored the auto industry's first profit-sharing plan.

PROFIT-SHARING

Under the profit-sharing arrangement, a percentage of AMC's pretax adjusted earnings is put into a fund. Some of the money is used to finance insurance and pension improvements and some phases of supplemental unemployment benefits.

Some of the fund is used to purchase company stock, which is distributed to workers on a formula based on years of service. The stock must be held for three years, except in case of personal emergency.

Some AMC workers have indicated they would rather have cash. This may be discussed at the bargaining table.

Callison Homer In 9th Gives NL Win To Even Standings In Star Series

NEW YORK (AP) — It took the National League 31 years to draw even with the American in All-Star warfare Tuesday and in the end it was an ex-American Leaguer who did it.

Wondrows Willie Mays, as usual, starred in the field and on the bases. Billy Williams and Ken Boyer smashed home runs. Jim Bunning and Juan Marichal pitched superbly. But the hero of the National's 7-4 triumph was Johnny Callison, who was not even voted on the All-Star team.

Callison, a personal pick by Manager Walter Alton, came up in the bottom of the ninth inning with two out, two on and the score tied at 4-4. He walloped Dick Radatz' first pitch into the second deck over Shea Stadium's right field bullpen to square the All-Star series at 17 victories apiece.

After the 1949 game, the AL led 12-4. The NL has won 13, lost 5 and tied one of the last 19.

The 25-year-old Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder, selected by Alton as the 25th man because of the National League's need strength, had entered the game in the fifth inning, hitting for pitcher Jim Bunning.

"He beat us enough," said Alton, managing his fourth winning All-Star squad in six attempts. "I figured he owed us something."

LOPEZ NEVER WON

In a recent series at Los Angeles, Callison hit two home runs in two games against Alton's Dodgers.

Next to Radatz, the most charged man on the American League squad was Manager Al Lopez, who has yet to be on a winning All-Star squad. He lost four times as a manager, twice as a player and three times as a coach.

"And to think that before the game I shook hands with Johnny and wished him luck," said Lopez.

LOPEZ TRADED CALLISON

It was Lopez, who traded Callison, then a 20-year-old Chicago White Sox hopeful, to the Phillies in the winter of 1959 for third baseman Gene Freese.

Callison said he did not get any special pleasure out of beating his old boss.

"I never faulted Lopez for trading me," he said. "I felt then the deal was good for me because I would have more of an opportunity to play with Philadelphia."

Radatz, Boston's brilliant relief pitcher, was invincible in the seventh and eighth innings when he struck out four of the six batters he faced.

"MONSTER" HAD LEAD

The giant right-hander, who has been dubbed "The Monster" by opposing hitters, was nursing a 4-3 lead when Willie Mays opened the ninth by drawing a walk.

Willie, who had contributed two sparkling plays in the field although going hitless, promptly stole second. Orlando Cepeda singled to short right. Mays, holding up because he feared the ball might be caught, could go only as far as third.

Joe Pepitone, after retrieving the ball, fired it to the plate. The ball skipped past the catcher to the screen and Willie slid across the plate with the tying run. Cepeda took second on the throw. HAD BEEN HERO

Radatz bore down and disposed of the dangerous Ken Boyer on a pop-up. He walked John Edwards intentionally before fanny pinch hitter Henry Aaron. Then came the fateful pitch to Callison.

Until the final pitch Radatz, Baltimore's Brooks Robinson and Kansas City's Rocky Colavito had been the heroes. Robinson, who also contributed a fine fielding play at third base, had put the American Leaguers back in the ball game in the sixth inning. With Philadelphia's Chris Short on the mound, Robinson tripled to right center, driving in two runs to tie the score at 3-3.

MARICHAL WINS

Colavito, a last hour replacement for the injured Al Kaline, doubled as a pinch hitter in the seventh, moving Elston Howard to third. Howard scored the lead run on Jim Fregosi's sacrifice fly.

The victory went to San Francisco's Juan Marichal, fifth NL pitcher, who hurled a scoreless ninth.

A crowd of 50,850, largest All-Star gathering since the 1959 game in Los Angeles, saw 37 players perform, 20 wearing National League uniforms.

PHILS BEGIN HOME STAND OF 7 GAMES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Riding high on John Callisons' heroics in the All-Star game, the Philadelphia Phillies return to the more serious business of fighting for the National League pennant tonight, taking on the St. Louis Cardinals at Connie Mack Stadium.

The game is a makeup of a rainout with the Cards earlier in the season, and it begins a seven-game home stand for the Phillies.

Ray Culp is scheduled to go for the current league leaders against a lefthander for the Cards, former Phil Curt Simmons.

CALLISON MVP

Culp earned one of the three Phillies victories over the second place San Francisco Giants last weekend and manager Gene Mauch was hoping he could give the righthander another day's rest. But Chris Short, originally sent to start the Cardinal game, was used Tuesday in the All-Star classic, as was Jim Bunning.

Mauch was far from unhappy with the performance of his Phils in that game, of course.

Callison, by virtue of his ninth-inning three-run homer in the National League's 7-4 victory, was selected the Most Valuable Player in the All-Star game. Bunning pitched two innings, allowed two singles and struck out four.

SHORT "WASN'T RIGHT"

Short pitched only one inning, giving up two runs on three hits.

"I told Alton (Manager Walt Alton) after the inning I wasn't right," Short said, referring to a muscle spasm in his right side. "He took me right out."

Short added, "In a way I'm glad it happened. It's better to find out now than it would have been in a Phillies game."

The Phillies go into tonight's game with a 1½ game lead in the National League.

An error resulting in the winning run in the bottom of the eighth inning game the Rebels a thrilling 3-2 win over the Warriors Tuesday evening.

Patterson starting the first extra inning with a single. Mike McDermitt then grounded to the pitcher, but a wild throw enabled Patterson to circle the diamond and romp in with the score.

The Warriors tallied a run in the second and added another in the fourth. The Rebels scored in the bottom of the second and again in the sixth to knot the count and send the contest into extra innings.

Patterson topped the winners with three hits for four at bats. Dennis Hankey banged out two safeties to top the Rebels.

Lutherans Debate Adoption Of Statement Condemning Discrimination, Prejudice

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Delegates to the Lutheran Church in America convention have ironed out for later action a sweeping statement condemning discrimination.

The some 700 delegates to the church's second biennial convention debated the adoption of the statement Monday in a special session.

Then at a night session they voted to change part of the statement which read:

"To stand before God and pray that He will 'take from us all hatred and prejudice,' and then as a praying church to discriminate among men on any such sinful basis, is an act of blasphemy."

Under the change "A contradiction of this prayer" was substituted for "An act of blasphemy."

TO ACT WEDNESDAY

Delegates are scheduled to act upon the statement today under "unfinished business." Earlier, church leaders from both the North and South predicted the church would adopt a strong law condemning discrimination.

The change Monday night was proposed by Dr. Raymond Wood of Atlanta, Ga., who said some people in the church are guilty of discriminating against others even though they know it is wrong and try to do otherwise.

Therefore, he said, their guilt should be described in a more pardonable term.

The statement condemns discrimination in all major controversial areas, including housing, education, hiring and business. It also sanctions demonstrations and similar measures of peaceful civil disobedience as means to focus attention on discrimination.

SEES LITTLE CHANGE

Dr. Wood predicted the statement would be adopted in substantially its present form.

The president of the Board of Social Ministry, The Rev. Alfred H. Stone of Seattle, Wash., also said he felt the statement would be adopted without substantial change.

When asked if he thought the proposed law would cause turmoil within the church in the South, he answered:

"No, to the contrary. It (the law) would give pastors and lay people a stronger hand. It would give a stronger hand to pastors and moderates who are seeking reconciliation at points of tension."

Motorcyclist, 23, Killed In Crash

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A motorcycle operator was killed Tuesday in a crash at Magee Hospital in Pittsburgh's Oakland section.

AP Assigns 150 Top Men To News, Photo Staffs For Coverage Of Two National Political Conventions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than 150 Associated Press news and photo staffers have been assigned to cover the 1964 national political conventions.

Many of them are top byliners whose names are familiar to readers of The Gettysburg Times and newspapers all over America.

Their bulletin reports and pictures will be transmitted instantly to The Times over a network of leased wires set up at the Cow Palace in San Francisco for the Republican convention starting July 13 and at Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N. J., for the Democratic convention Aug. 24.

NEWS COVERAGE

William L. Beale Jr., Washington AP bureau chief and veteran of 14 national conventions, will direct the news coverage, assisted by Marvin L. Arrow-smith, former White House reporter and now general news editor in Washington.

F. A. Resch, AP general newsphoto editor whose first convention assignment was in 1932, will direct the photographic coverage. His assistant will be photo news editor Pat McDonald of New York.

The arrangements result from months of planning and years of experience in delivering fast, accurate and impartial accounts of national conventions.

NEWS STAFF

Beale assembled a staff of 60 newsmen from AP bureaus across the country to cover around the clock all phases of the conventions—including the back-room maneuvering and news of regional interest. The staff is built around a core of political and government reporters from Washington and New York.

In San Francisco, they will be supplemented by AP bureau chief William J. Waugh's regular 30-man staff of reporters, writers and editors.

Douglas B. Cornell, veteran of almost 35 years of Washington news coverage and a recognized master of the wrap-up story of big events, will write the main convention stories for morning newspapers.

AFTERNOON NEWSPAPERS

Jack Bell, head of The AP's Senate staff for 22 years, and Harry Kelly, another Washington veteran, will handle the main convention stories for afternoon newspapers.

Two well-known byliners, Relman (Pat) Morin, winner of two Pulitzer prizes, and Saul Pett, will do general assignment and feature stories.

Providing this newspaper's readers with the behind-the-scenes glimpses of political activity will be Arthur Edson, Washington news and feature writer.

JAMES MARLOW

James Marlow, news analyst and author of The AP's "The World Today" column, will interpret the developments at both conventions.

Activities of the candidates' wives and of women delegates at the Republican convention will be covered by Frances Levine of Washington and Doris Klein of Los Angeles. Joy Miller of New York, AP woman's editor, will join Miss Levine at the Democratic meeting in Atlantic City.

Assigned to the demanding job of reporting convention developments are a crew of men experienced in handling hot, breaking stories. Among them are William F. Arbogast, Raymond J. Crowley, John Beckler, Geoffrey Gould and Wilbur Martin.

PLATFORM COMMITTEES

Lewis Gulick, Edmond Lebreton and Sterling F. Green will cover activities and hearings of the platform committees. The special assignment reporters who traveled with the major candidates and political figures during the recent months of campaigning will stay close to these newsmakers during convention activity.

In addition a corps of about 20 newsmen will cover state delegations for news of special interest to various regions.

Resch's convention staff of photographers, picture editors and darkroom technicians number over 50, and his arrangements include a production line to develop and transmit photographs within minutes.

PRIVATE TELEPHONES

Private telephone lines will connect the convention news desks with reporters near the platform and on the floor.

Fifteen operators have been assigned to man the Teletype machines and Wirephoto Transmitters linked to an intricate network of leased wires.

From the convention hall, copy will flow into two national news wires and the national Wirephoto network, with still a third national news wire in reserve for use as needed.

In addition, regional wires will be available to simultaneously transmit special-interest reports to four sections of the country. Many regional Wirephoto network legs will provide for similar servicing of photographers.

Sends Assailant Home In Taxi

MIAMI (AP)—Police said Delmar Davis, 50, hospitalized with a stab wound, reached in his pocket and gave $1 to the man who stabbed him.

The money, police said, was for Davis' assailant to take a cab home. No charges were filed. An argument followed a session of drinking, police said.

STATE OF U. S. ECONOMY SEEN AT NEW HIGH

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Taking stock after the Fourth of July holiday many sectors of both government and business find themselves healthier than usual. Uncle Sam has about $2 billion more cash on hand than he thought he would.

Steel production slipped much less than it usually does in an Independence Day shortened work week.

Retail sales in many stores were better last week than in the like holiday week a year ago.

Car sales are holding up surprisingly well as the end of the season approaches.

The Treasury has been selling more U.S. Savings Bonds than a year ago.

This country's foreign trade hit a record high earlier this year, the government reports. And now it expects the whole year to turn out better than it first thought, despite the roadblocks the European Common Market might throw up.

Banks have increased their business, and their profits, in the first half of the year. Few see much cause for worry in the immediate future.

INSTALLMENT CREDIT

And while the banks were increasing their deposits and their loans, they and the finance companies were setting a record high in consumer installment credit extended. At the same time their collections on outstanding debt also rose to highs. Prices of blue chip stocks

DAVID JANSSEN COMMENTS ON "THE FUGITIVE"

EDITOR'S NOTE — When ABC's "The Fugitive" caught the public fancy upon its debut last fall, the two big questions raised were how could the writers keep a man on the run from the authorities for an indefinite period, and how could a hero who was an escaped convict be squared with television's "crime doesn't pay" code. Here star David Janssen supplies the answers. He writes for Cynthia Lowry, who is on vacation.

By DAVID JANSSEN
Written for The AP

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Soon after "The Fugitive" premiered last fall, those of us connected with the show learned to expect calls on Wednesday mornings from friends "in the trade," here in Hollywood. After the usual comments on the previous night's episode, the callers would get around to the usual questions: What's going to happen next week? How can you sustain interest with a man-on-the-run premise?

The general idea seemed to be that we had no more than a "one-joke" situation going for us, one that couldn't be sustained for more than 13 weeks at best.

Well, 30 weeks—a full season—later, our Wednesday mornings are much quieter. We seldom are asked about sustaining interest in Richard Kimble's dilemma.

MANY THINGS GOING

Actually, we have many things going for us on "The Fugitive." Lt. Gerard's pursuit of Dr. Kimble is only one of them.

Before I stepped in front of the camera to film the pilot, I had made sure that Dr. Kimble was more than a one-dimensional character obsessed with finding the one-armed man who committed the crime he's been convicted of. He's a man with

Garage Customer Takes Wrong Car

SUPERIOR, Neb. (AP)—When Joe A. Shaffer of Guide Rock took his car into a Superior garage for repairs, he was offered the use of another while his was in the shop.

Shaffer followed instructions to "take that Buick across the street."

The sheriff found Shaffer a week later to tell him there must have been two Buicks parked across from the garage because the one he was driving belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Beck of Superior.

a fine background, a scientific education, and decent instincts. He understands the viewpoint of Lt. Gerard thoroughly and as a man with deep respect for law and law enforcement, is even sympathetic toward it. Although he is the unfortunate victim of a miscarriage of justice, he does not feel that by keeping on the run he is compromising his basic beliefs.

And because of his basic decency, his instinctive reaction to situations which could expose him to capture, we have considerably more than a one-joke situation in our series.

For the coming season, we already have at hand completed scripts from such writers as Larry Cohen, Stuart Jerome, Al Ward, Ben Maddox, Leonard Kantor, Sheldon Stark and Arthur Weiss.

Without our professional and public acceptance, I feel we have grabbed two gold rings on the television merry-go-round. The new ride starts Sept. 15.

RATES REDUCED AGAIN FOR ELECTRIC HOME HEATING AND ALL-ELECTRIC LIVING!

It's always good news when costs go down. And for families with electrically-heated homes, this is the third substantial rate reduction in the last six years! Since the first electric heat installation in this area—these three big rate reductions have amounted to an average of 23.5%!

The present reduction provides an annual saving of about one month's budget bill. You couldn't ask for better evidence that it's now more practical than ever to give your family the advantages of electric heat and all-electric living.

No other heating system can provide all the benefits you get with electric heat. It's absolutely unequalled for comfort—flexibility—cleanliness—safety—and trouble-free operation. And remember this. In the last six years, no other cost has gone down as much as the cost of electricity! There's never been a better time to find out why all-electric living is modern living!

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

ADDITIONAL CHRIST CHURCH HISTORY

A few more notes pertaining to the history of Christ Episcopal Church — taken mainly from the original "Vestry Book," now included among the records of the York County Historical Society.

At a vestry meeting held on June 13, 1763, the officials of Christ Church resolved to build "a new Church of Square Logs," on the site of the old structure — erected some years before. Edward Hatton, Isaac Sadler, John Maxwell and John Wilson were appointed a building committee, or to quote the original vestry entry "— shall agree with a Carpenter to build a church of such dimensions as they shall think proper."

In a comparatively short time the new structure was ready for occupancy — the second and last church to stand on the original site which, tradition states, was in the southeast corner of the old burial ground. As late as 75 years ago some of the foundation stones, a part of the chancel, could still be seen near the Coulson family burial plot.

On April 16, 1770, the Rev. Father John Andrews was appointed "Missionary to Christ Church" by the "Venerable Society." During the pastorate of Father Andrews the congregation, while far-flung, was still fairly large and well repaid the work of the priest. He labored among them for some four years and when he resigned was followed, on May 15, 1774, by the Rev. Father Daniel Batwell.

The American portion of the career of Father Batwell was unfortunate to say the least. He was, like so many of the early priests of the Church of England, an Englishman by birth and education. He arrived in this country and came to Christ Church on the eve of the American Revolution and, as was to be expected, he soon ran into difficulties. Like one of his predecessors, the Rev. Father Thomas Barton, the Rev. Father Batwell was a Loyalist. He refused to break his ordination oath and insisted on praying for the King and Royal family. This led, as was to be expected, to trouble. While in York, Pa., to hold services in St. John's Church, the Rev. Father Batwell was ducked three times in Codorus Creek and barely escaped with his life. Afterwards he was imprisoned and suffered greatly from the harsh treatment accorded him. Upon his release, on October 2, 1777, Father Batwell returned to England and there he stayed for the remainder of his life.

Some 132 years after the Rev. Father Daniel Batwell thankfully shook the dust of America from his feet a somewhat unusual sequel to his pastorate at Christ Church was published in the "Star and Sentinel" on October 6, 1909.

"The Barton or Batwell Chairs — Professor H. O. Himes recently bought from Samuel Trimmer, of York, Pennsylvania, the eight antique chairs. These are the famous Barton or Batwell chairs and they have an authentic and rather interesting history, which is bound up with the first Episcopal congregation in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania. We are referring to Christ Episcopal Church which originally flourished in Huntington Township, this county.

"The Rev. Father Thomas Barton came as a missionary from England to America in 1755 to Christ Episcopal Church, Huntington Township, near York Springs, York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania. He brought with him the eight Chippendale chairs when he and his family came to live in the frontier parish. Evidently when Father Barton moved to Lancaster, Pennsylvania, where he had been appointed priest at St. James Church, they left the chairs at Christ Church rectory. They remained there during the pastorate of the Rev. William Thompson and were still in the old building when the Rev. Father Daniel Batwell came to take over the charge.

"During the Revolution the Rev. Father Batwell was a Loyalist and he returned to England somewhat hurriedly. He left his furniture with the Collins family, who, when he did not return, sold his effects. Six of the chairs were bought by the late Dr. D. McC. White of Hampton. Mr. Trimmer bought these and located the other two, one of them in the family of a Mr. Wherley. Professor Himes now has the complete set."

It would be interesting to know the present whereabouts of the Barton or Batwell chairs? Since they were at one time the property of the Rev. Father Thomas Barton they may have belonged, originally, to the Rittenhouse family for Father Barton was married to Esther Rittenhouse, the sister of David Rittenhouse.

Butcher Views Virtue Dimly

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Mrs. E. H. Warner of Des Moines stopped at a market where she isn't known, to buy some meat. Then she discovered she didn't have enough money in her purse.

She asked the market manager whether he would cash a check. He asked for her driver's license; she didn't have one. He asked for her state liquor purchase permit book; she didn't have one.

She observed: "I guess it's very difficult to cash a check if you don't drive or drink."

The store manager grinned and said: "Aw gimme the check."

tenhouse, the sister of David Rittenhouse. In 1784 the Rev. Father John Campbell was appointed priest at Christ Church. Once again, after the long period of the American Revolution, the congregation became active and the work of the parish seems to have gone on much the same as before the war. From April 3, 1776 to August 9, 1784 there is a gap in the church records but since this roughly covers the Revolutionary period it is to be expected. Probably no regular services were held during this time except by an occasional lay reader or travelling missionary.

During the pastorate of Father Campbell repairs were made to the church and rectory. Vestrymen and wardens were duly elected, the glebe farm was cared for and yielded a nice profit — in short all was well with Christ Church.

The Rev. Father John Armstrong became the priest in 1798 and he was succeeded, in turn by the Rev. Father John Reynolds (1811), Rev. George Woodruff (1820), Rev. Charles Williams (1823), Rev. Richard D. Hall (1826-1831), Rev. John Marsden (1831-1835), Rev. J. E. V. Thorn (1836-1838), Rev. John Marsden (1838-1848), Rev. Freeman Lane (1851-1853) — the Rev. Father Lane is buried back of the Chapel in York Springs and his grave is marked. The Rev. Father John Marsden, a native son, was the last resident priest and he remained faithful until the very end.

At a meeting of the vestry held on March 28, 1953, it was decided to sell the glebe. Few were left in the congregation, and the old church was a monument to the past. Today only the burial ground remains — neglected and a scene of ruin — the last resting place of the fathers of Christ Church.

The survey of Lower Marsh Creek Cemetery will be continued next week.

MOTHER OF TEN EXPECTS 11TH

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer will need another crib in their new 20-room home being built southwest of Aberdeen.

The parents of America's only quintuplets are expecting another child, reportedly around the time of the quints' first birthday, Sept. 14.

Mrs. Fischer told the Aberdeen American-News she would make no formal announcement of the long-rumored pregnancy. "Everyone knows it anyway."

The quints—four girls and a boy—were born nearly 10 months ago. The Fischers have five other children.

They live in a rented home in Aberdeen while their new farm dwelling is under construction. Fischer expects to enter the cattle business on their 800-acre tract but is still working at a wholesale grocery firm.

To measure baking powder and salt as well as small amounts of other dry ingredients, dip up the ingredient with a measuring spoon and level off with a spatula.

Water Co. Buys . . . Plant In Expansion

HARRISBURG (AP) — The York Water Co. will purchase the Jacobus Borough waterworks plant for $75,000 and spend another $89,000 to run 8,915 feet of 12-inch pipeline from Leaders Heights to Jacobus to serve 340 customers.

The move was authorized Tuesday by the Public Utility Commission. The PUC also granted permission to the company to extend its service to the Loganville Borough line and south in sections of York and Springfield Twp. adjoining Jacobus.

Strasbaugh Shifts Posts To PSU

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Wayne V. Strasbaugh, director of development at Lebanon Valley College the past four years, will step into a similar post at Pennsylvania State University on Aug. 15.

Strasbaugh, whose appointment was announced here Tuesday, will be responsible primarily for the university's fund-raising efforts with corporations and foundations and for the institution's estate planning.

NEW PRESS SECRETARY

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. John Roberts of Oakland, Calif., is the new press secretary for Mrs. Barry Goldwater.

Mrs. Roberts was named Tuesday to replace Betty Milburn of Tucson, who resigned. Mrs. Roberts, a former feature writer for the Los Angeles Times' women's department, has held several public relations positions.

Woman, 26, Held In Stabbing Of Man, 45

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—Elena Urrutia, 26, is being held for grand jury action on a murder charge in the stabbing death of Ramon Madera Martinez, 45.

Miss Urrutia was given a hearing on the charge Tuesday before Alderman Charles Swope. Police said Martinez died at Good Samaritan Hospital June 14 of a stab wound in the left shoulder.

City Patrolman Earl Wike testified he found Martinez on the street near the apartment house where the victim resided. Wike said Miss Urrutia, who occupied another apartment in the same building, appeared at the scene carrying two knives.

Social Security

Q. I work in a summer resort area and earn wages of about $3,000 between April 1 and October 31. In the winter when the lake freezes and everybody stays at home, I stay home too. I am now 66 years old. Can I get social security benefits for these winter months?

A. Yes. You can get social security benefits for any month in which you do not earn $100 in wages or actively work in a business of your own.

Q. I am planning to apply for social security retirement benefits. I was told that I can earn $1,200 a year and still get my payments. My brother-in-law insists that I would have to limit my earnings to $100 a month. Is he right?

A. No. If you do not earn over $1,200 in a year, it does not make any difference how much you earn in any one month.

Q. I got a statement of my social security record and unsaid there were no witnesses to the stabbing and asked that the case be dismissed. Alderman Swope turned down the request.

derstand that I am "fully insured." Does this mean that I'll collect the maximum payment when I retire?

A. No. Your retirement check will be based on your average earnings, not just the length of time you have worked.

Q. I'll be 62 in Oct. and plan to begin working on a part-time basis. When should I put in for my social security checks?

A. This month.

Q. I have a domestic worker who works 6 hours every Saturday and is paid cash wages of $39.00 a quarter. She is given cash of one dollar weekly for transportation. Am I required to report this domestic worker?

A. Yes. The $13 in cash you pay her for transportation brings her cash wages up to a little more than $50, the minimum amount that must be reported for social security.

MIAMI (AP) — Fireman Bob Zager pulled a monkey from a flaming pet store and applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Zager finally revived the monkey and took it home. He called a veterinarian for the monkey and a doctor for himself—the monkey had bit him.

Preparation Is Important In Vegetable Preservation

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Adams County
Extension Home Economist

Food preservation, canning and freezing, is going on all over the county. A number of questions are being asked about methods and problems in food preservation.

How long should food be blanched or pre-heated and why—is a common question. The blanching process stops enzymic action and halts ripening. The quality of the product is better.

Beans generally take three minutes. Corn is blanched on the cob in boiling water for four minutes, cooled promptly in cold water and drained. For whole kernel corn, cut kernels about two-thirds depth.

Why are liquids drawn out of jars? Liquids in jars will be drawn out of the jars are too full, the pressure in a canner fluctuates, or the water in a boiling water bath does not cover jars at least one inch.

Recently, a homemaker asked about food stored for a number of years. Is it all right to use? Canned foods that have been stored more than a year are safe as long as there is no sign of bulging, spoilage or leakage of the can. There may be a loss of flavor, color and nutritive value in the food if stored in a warm place. Food fades if stored in too bright a place. Circular 464 contains information on freezing and Circular 473 contains information on canning and these circulars are available at the Extension Office, 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg.

A 1958 survey showed that 87 per cent of the rural homemakers were canning and 62 per cent freezing foods; 63 per cent of the rural nonfarm homemakers were canning and 23 per cent freezing foods; 29 per cent of the urban homemakers canned foods and nine per cent of them froze foods.

Teen-agers and adults never outgrow their need for milk. Daily use of dairy foods may help teen-agers keep their postures arrow-straight, and may help adults prevent aching shoulders or severe back pains.

For the teen-age girl who wants a figure that will turn a young man's head in her direction, milk is essential. Four glasses of milk each day will meet her needs. Cheese, ice cream, and cottage cheese can count toward this total.

Milk and other dairy products far out-distance any foods in the amount of calcium they provide. Knock-knees, bowlegs, stooped or aching shoulders, and severe back pains may be the result of too little calcium in the diet. Two 8-ounce glasses of milk or other calcium equivalent each day will do much to keep an adult feeling good.

If the number of calories in whole milk keeps a person from drinking as much as he needs, he can try skim milk, nonfat dry milk, or butter milk. Each one of these contains half the calories whole milk does.

Milk may be served hot or cold, plain or flavored with fruit juice, crushed fruit or chocolate. Cooked foods, such as custards, puddings, and tapioca, are other excellent ways to use milk.

Elderly people who live alone all too often neglect to eat regularly. They don't enjoy cooking for one. And sometimes they aren't really hungry. Yet eating regular meals is a habit far too important to lose. Food specialists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture point out that good health depends upon good eating. Three regular meals a day are customary. But, four or five meals will do just as well—provided the food adds up to a good diet.

Older folks who find eating dull and uninteresting should make a conscious effort to eat regularly and well. Nutritionists in USDA's Agricultural Research Service suggest these tricks to coax appetite:

Take a walk whenever the day is nice. If you must stay indoors, do odd jobs that require light exercise.

Make your meals interesting. Try new foods and seasonings.

Arrest Driver In Hit-Run Death

DUNCAN, Pa. (AP)—Charles O. Jones, 27, of Millersburg R. 1, Perry County, is free on $2,500 bail on an involuntary manslaughter charge in the hit-and-run death of a Newport area man.

State police said Jones was arrested Monday at his job near Columbia, Lancaster County. He waived a preliminary hearing before a magistrate and was released on bail.

Jones is accused of driving the car that struck and killed Orval E. Miller, 52, of Newport R. 2, as he was walking along Route 34 between Newport and New Bloomfield. The car failed to stop, police said.

Drop 10 Cent Toll To Binghamton

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Southern Telephone Corp., Allentown, N.Y., on July 19 will eliminate a 10-cent toll paid by 219 Susquehanna County, Pa., customers on calls to Binghamton, N.Y.

In authorizing the move Tuesday, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission said the company, residing in Silver Lake, Pa., would realize savings of $7,100 a year.

FIRES BANNED

DOVER, Del. (AP)—State Fire Marshal William R. Favinger has banned all outside burning in Delaware, as of noon (EDT) today.

Favinger said Tuesday, the ban is a result of the long dry spell, with no letup anticipated in the near future. He said it would remain in effect until further notice and would not be lifted because of occasional showers.

Pep up your food with herbs and spices. (As people grow older, senses of taste and smell become less keen, so a little more flavoring is often needed.) Include bright-colored foods for special eye appeal; something crisp, like lettuce or a pickle, to contrast with the softer foods; and something flavorful to contrast with foods that are mild-flavored.

Then take time to eat your meals. Sit down at a table or serve the meal on a tray that has a pretty place mat. A leisurely meal in an attractive setting can make eating a pleasure for anyone.

The Political Picture

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States must shift its policy emphasis in Viet Nam from a defensive strategy to "a policy of winning the war," Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton contended today.

In a position paper outlining his views on Southeast Asia policy Scranton declared "the peace and security of South Viet Nam cannot be won by an effort limited only to South Viet Nam."

Scranton, seeking the Republican nomination for president, issued the position paper as he prepared to leave Chicago for the GOP National Convention at San Francisco.

"We must develop a range of pressures and inducement that can be brought to bear on North Viet Nam to cease its aggressive acts," the governor declared.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater isn't worried about the Republican party platform, his campaign director said today.

Denison Kitchel said in an interview he doesn't think the forces opposing the senator in his front-running bid for the GOP presidential nomination have enough delegate strength to win adoption of platform planks aimed at embarrassing the Arizona.

Goldwater takes his conservative case to the resolutions committee Friday morning. He will fly to San Francisco Thursday.

CHICAGO (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton heads for San Francisco today to try to upset what he termed the "political steamroller" of Sen. Barry Goldwater at the Republican National Convention.

COURT RULES IN CASE OF OIL PIPELINE

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The state Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that the Republic Wire Co. of Woodbridge had no right to erect a building over an underground oil pipeline even though it owns the land.

The 7-0 decision represented a victory for the Tide-Water Pipe Co. of Pennsylvania which has underground pipelines near the New Jersey Terminal Railroad in Woodbridge.

The Republic Wire Corp. decided in 1961 to erect a building on the property. Tide-Water contended this violated a petroleum pipeline easement it had obtained around 1914 or 1915. It said the building could hinder any repair operations that might be necessary in the pipes.

The Supreme Court said a thorough appraisal of the evidence supports a ruling by Superior Court Judge Frank J. Kingfield who held that in this case . . . "The property owner does not have an absolute right to erect a building over a pipeline easement, and that such erection of a building constitutes an invasion of the free right of access to the easement."

Kingfield ordered Republic Wire to either remove the building or pay the cost of relocating the underground pipelines. The Supreme Court returned jurisdiction of the case to Superior Court to insure compliance with Kingfield's ruling.

day night in a nationally televised political program on NBC the governor accused Goldwater managers of "smeared" and "every conceivable kind of pressure and threat" to keep the nomination from Scranton. The convention opens Monday.

Said Scranton: "They (the Goldwater managers) are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank-and-file Republicans."

COW PALACE IS BEING READIED FOR GOP MEET

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Cow Palace is no place today for cows. Or people.

Work is moving along briskly and noisily to transform the big exhibition hall and home of a professional ice hockey team into the arena for selecting the 1964 Republican ticket. The convention opens Monday.

Flags of the states have been draped on both sides. A new electronic score board has been installed to flash a running total of the vote for the presidential nomination. Most of the delegation phones are in.

The major business of erecting the platform area, however, is only half completed. Workmen are still erecting partitions off the floor for various activities.

Members of the convention arrive their way through the lumber and wires Tuesday to assess the progress.

"It's working out very well," said Clare Shank of St. Petersburg, Fla., a GOP national committeewoman and a former assistant national chairman.

Mrs. Shank said she was delighted that so little room for the 1,308 delegates had been sacrificed in enlarging the platform space allowed for the 1956 Republican convention in the same hall.

Back at the headquarters hotel, there were happy tidings for people who'd like to attend the "GOP Party Gala" convention eve but don't have $500 in cash for a ticket.

"CHARGE IT"

Just charge it, the sponsors said. More specifically, the national Republican senatorial and congressional committees announced they'll accept credit cards for the foremost social event of the convention. What will the guests get for their $500?

—An engraved ticket, the size of a calling card, engraved in silver and blue, and packaged in a dark blue leather jewelry box. The box also will contain a tiny silver pin in the shape of the Capitol dome.

—A chance to get a close look at all party presidential possibilities and dignitaries and to mix with what advance publicity bills as numerous movie and television personalities.

Kids With A Point At Candy Counter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After a show of force, a dozen kids have converted a candy store owner to their way of thinking.

Their way of thinking is that when you are at a candy counter trying to make up your mind you don't like to be rushed.

They considered that Mrs. Antoinette Mufarreh was rushing them in her Noe Hill market at 4001 Noe St. So they marched on the market and protested.

Mrs. Mufarreh agreed they should not be rushed at such a critical time. She went further. Would they like to come taste some candy afterward?

"She's a very nice lady," said Kevin Fregosi, 4, savoring a mint.

Former Templar Commander Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Raymond F. Hoffman, a past grand commander of the Pennsylvania Knights Templar, died Tuesday while on a tour of the country.

Hoffman, 74, of Baldwin Twp., near Pittsburgh, was a retired board chairman of W. H. Williams Lumber Co., Pittsburgh.

He was elected generalissimo of the Pennsylvania Knights Templar at the 85th grand convocation in 1948 and three years later was elected grand treasurer.

Report Salt Front In Delaware River

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—U.S. Geology Survey officials say a salt front in the Delaware River has passed Chester, Pa., and that the salt content is less than half that of the same date a year ago.

Officials said Tuesday that reports from testing stations along the Delaware indicate conditions are good considering a two-month drought in the Delaware Valley area.

Instruments at the Delaware Memorial Bridge measured salt content in the water at 1,200 parts per million. Water is not considered fresh when the content is greater than 50 parts per million. Sea water has 19,000 parts.

HAS GADGETS TO AID HEART

BROWNS MILLS, N.J. (AP)—William Johnson, 50-year-old meat cutter from Glenolden, Pa., is now a walking convalescent, after undergoing two major heart operations in the last 18 months.

Johnson carries inside him an electric device that stimulates heart action and a plastic ball valve that opens and closes the heart as it beats.

Surgeons at Deborah Hospital here say Johnson is the only person to their knowledge who has ever had such major surgery—and lived.

He suffered what is called a heart block in 1963 and underwent surgery to place a "pace-maker" device in his abdomen with wires leading to the heart to stimulate pumping.

But other cardiac problems arose and two weeks ago four Deborah surgeons performed an open heart operation, replacing a defective aortic valve with a plastic one that opens and closes in response to his heart beats.

Adenauer, 88, Assumes New Role In Opposing Erhard Foreign Policy

By CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP) — Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is starting a new political career at the age of 88—leader of the opposition to his successor's foreign policy.

It's a low-key opposition, but opposition none the less.

Adenauer believes Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government should work more closely with French President Charles de Gaulle. Erhard, with the American attitude in mind, is wary of De Gaulle.

DIKE AGAINST SOVIETS

France and West Germany, Adenauer told this correspondent in an interview Monday, are not significant separately but together they can form a dike against Soviet penetration into Europe.

He quoted De Gaulle as saying: "I am for German reunification because I don't want to wake up one morning and hear that the Russians are on the banks of the Rhine."

France and West Germany would form a stronger dike, Adenauer says, if other European nations, including Britain, could be brought to join them. But he has little trust in Britain—especially since he is convinced that Britain is soon going to have a Labor government. It's not that he considers the Labor party to be Communist. He feels that even the British Conservatives lean too much toward Moscow.

FRIENDLY WITH DeGAULLE

Adenauer insists that his friendship with De Gaulle is not directed against the United States, but he feels the need to remind Washington repeatedly of the dangers he sees in trusting Soviet Premier Khrushchev. He appears to share De Gaulle's idea that the United States is turning too much of its attention toward Red China.

De Gaulle and Adenauer had a long talk on Friday that made De Gaulle 10 minutes late for a joint French-West German Cabinet meeting. Adenauer said he had accepted De Gaulle's invitation to visit Paris in the fall.

It was generally thought last October, when he relinquished the chancellorship to Erhard, that Adenauer would fade quietly into political oblivion. He had no such intention.

He got a small but well appointed office in the Bundeshaus West Germany's Capitol, and insisted on remaining chairman

URGES ACTION TO MAKE BAKER FORFEIT GAINS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., Tuesday urged the attorney general to bring suit in an effort to force Bobby Baker to turn over to the government the money he made while on the Senate payroll.

"Bobby Baker can be compelled in a civil action to pay over to the United States every penny he has made through the use of his influence and the prestige of his office," Case said in a statement.

Case also renewed his attack on what he termed the "inadequate and timid" investigation of Baker's affairs by the Senate Rules Committee.

"The entire effort thus far has the ring of an investigation handcuffed before it started, kept that way no matter what, and now, hopefully, destined for the category of 'file and forget,'" he said.

Disappointment with the investigation also was expressed by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., author of the resolution adopted by the Senate last October directing the Rules Committee to probe Baker's outside business dealings.

"The majority membership of the Rules Committee have backed down when confronted with a possibly embarrassing disclosure, and by their failure to pursue this investigation they are vulnerable to the charge of attempted whitewash," Williams told the Senate Monday.

Williams charged that Baker, before he resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, "apparently charged an estimated $3,000 in personal telephone calls to the government."

He protested the committee had dropped the matter after Baker, when called as a witness, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions about his telephone calls.

The committee's Democratic majority and the Republican minority are to file reports Wednesday on how Baker accumulated a claimed fortune of more than $2 million while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year.

of the Christian Democratic party. He writes and speaks with the energy and clarity of a man 30 years younger.

Adenauer is known as a man of few, simple and clear ideas. One is unalterable opposition to communism. Another is the conviction that the Communists are thinking more about taking over Germany than anything else.

He tests every turn in foreign affairs against those ideas.

World News

GENEVA (AP)—The treasurer of Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella's ruling National Liberation Front —FLN— says he took most of the party's funds — $1.1 million — and will not give it back while Ben Bella remains in power.

Mohammed Khider told a news conference Monday he is prepared to give the money to "revolutionary forces opposing Ben Bella."

TOKYO (AP) — Japan paid out $55.5 million in World War II reparations in fiscal 1963, bringing the total paid so far to $447 million, the Foreign Ministry announced Tuesday.

Japan has agreed to pay a total of almost one billion dollars in reparations and economic assistance to Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, the Philippines and South Viet Nam for damage they suffered as a result of Japanese military actions.

BEGIN PROBE ON HIGH COST OF FUNERALS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee opened hearings Tuesday into the "high cost of dying" and heard witnesses from the funeral industry tell of abuses in prices and selling, and unveil a proposal for correcting them.

Wilbur M. Krieger, managing director of the National Select-Morticians, Evanston, Ill., told the Senate subcommittee that his trade association had suggested 27 rules to the Federal Trade Commission "for the elimination of abuses in the funeral field."

He said some of the criticisms and charges against the funeral industry—which he noted had triggered such headlines as "Death Cost Too High" and "The Undertakers' Racket"—are justified.

ISOLATED INSTANCES

"But," he added in his statement, "there are many criticisms which are based only on isolated instances of abuse and misrepresentations of fact."

He said it is a fringe minority "which preys on the elderly and the bereaved" and damages the reputations of other funeral directors.

The rules that the trade association has proposed, he said, would strike at such sales pitches as these:

"Stating that the law requires a deceased to be embalmed when such is not the fact."

"Stating that the law requires the use of a burial vault when

Adams County Home, Box 1
Gettysburg R. 6,
July 4, 1964.

Mr. Paul Roy
The Gettysburg Times.

Dear Sir:

As regard to the highest state rating given to the Adams County Home, I would like to voice my personal opinion.

In the almost five years I have made my home here I have seen the work that has been done under the present management, that has resulted in this highest state rating.

This beautiful new home, with all its comforts, the fine work of the advisory board, the past and present county commissioners, the home auxiliary, and of interested friends, could mean little to us, under other management.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jordan and the staff they have created are the heart of the home. One must live here to realize this truth. But I believe both Dr. Henderson and Dr. Sheely would agree with me on this subject.

such is not the fact."

OTHER PRACTICES

He said the rules would also cover such practices as:

Paying secret kickbacks to hospital and coroner employees for steering "a prospective customer" to a mortician.

Saying that a complete funeral costs $750, for instance, when there are additional charges or services not included.

The hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, under Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., are aimed at uncovering any possible restraint of trade and antitrust aspects in the burial industry.

Red Chinese Down Nationalist U2

The broadcast did not describe how the plane was shot down. It also did not give the exact location where the plane went down.

It was the third U2 plane claimed shot down by the Communist Chinese since Sept. 9, 1962. Another was shot down last Nov. 1.

ARE YOU READY TO DIE?

The story is told of a barber who was genuinely converted to Christ. He became very concerned about the salvation of the lost and began to witness to his acquaintances about Christ. One day a customer came into his shop asking for a shave. He seated himself comfortably in the barber's chair, leaned back restfully and closed his eyes.

As the barber began to lather his customer's face, he thought, "Now this man may be a lost sinner; I should talk to him about his soul." He finished lathering the customer's face, took his straight razor, sharpened it, lifted it up ready to begin shaving and asked, "Are you ready to die?" The man opened his eyes, saw the barber with his razor poised in the air, jumped up from the seat and ran out the door, lather, apron, and all!

The barber's question was all-important, but it was ill-timed!

The Bible tells us that "... it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Heb. 9:27). This is something which is inescapable. You may be something like the man in the story and try to run away from the question, but you may be sure that you cannot outrun the grim reaper, nor can you escape the pending judgment of a holy God.

In Scripture we find out what death really is. Death is presented, not as cessation of existence, but as a threefold separation. Physical death is a separation of the soul and the body. For the saved, it is "... to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord" (II Cor. 5:8). The body is buried, but the person who had lived in the body is transferred to Heaven where Christ sits at the right hand of God. The unsaved person leaves the body at death and is transferred to Hell. (See Luke 16:19-31)

Then there is spiritual death. This is a separation of the spirit of man from God. This is the condition of all mankind until such a time when a man is given life from above through regeneration, the new birth. "But God, Who is rich in mercy, for His great love wherewith He loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us (made us alive) together with Christ" (Eph. 2:4, 5). Not all are given life from above, however; only those who receive Christ into their hearts by faith receive this spiritual life.

Last, there is eternal death. This is called the "second death." It is the result of spiritual death, and is declared to be "the lake of fire." From this there is NO APPEAL AND NO ESCAPE! This is the same lake of fire into which the devil will be cast preceding the last judgment. All unsaved people will be resurrected, judged at the great white throne judgment, and be cast into the lake of fire where they "shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever." (See Rev. 20:10-15)

"The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23). God has given you and me one of two possibilities: death or life. Since "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23) and since we earn death for our sins, we must conclude that we are hopelessly lost and doomed unless we get some outside help. This help is available. The Son of God, seeing our predicament, decided to die in our place. He took upon Himself a human body, was born of a Jewish virgin, was named Jesus of Nazareth, took our sins in His own body, and died in our stead. Now, since Someone else died in our place, we need not suffer eternal death. That God placed His stamp of approval on this substitutionary death is clearly proven in that God raised Jesus of Nazareth from the dead.

So since Jesus paid the sin debt of death for us, all that remains for us to do is to simply recognize our hopelessness, repent of our sins, and receive the Saviour! If you have not yet received Christ, bow your head and sincerely ask Jesus to forgive you and to come into your heart. Then you will be able to say, "Yes, I am ready to die."

Some Aspects Of Life In Soviet Are Like U.S., But Differences Exist

Grover, for five years Associated Press chief of bureau in Moscow, reports on aspects of life in the U.S.S.R., in the first of four articles.

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—If you don't look too closely, this country is in many respects almost like the United States. In many others, it is not.

Far more people go to the movies than to church. You buy your food in stores, meat from the butcher, bread from the baker and shoes, cloth, waste baskets and aluminum pots from the department store.

On Sunday you can go to the races in Moscow, and on Monday read another letter from an angry housewife demanding that the race betting machines be closed because "they are the ruin of Communist youth."

COLLEGE STUDENTS

The boys and girls in college take to one another a little too freely, in the view of the elders, but when an order was issued at Moscow University prohibiting girls from visiting alone with young men in the dormitories, there was a loud outcry from the students. In a newspaper article they accused their elders of hypocrisy and insisted they didn't need to be coddled.

Divorce courts function, far more simply than in America. Just as in America, the court tries to effect a reconciliation. The percentage is low. The baby? Grandmother will look after it.

In the five years I have been here, clothes have grown noticeably better. For the most part they still are shoddy as to material, and even far more shoddy as to design. Yet a style show just held displayed men's and women's things much better made. They haven't reached the stores yet. Prices of shoes and clothing are atrociously high, a suit often the price of two months' salary.

AMERICANS ENVIED

Americans always have been liked, and envied, by a great body of the population which would like to have things here the way they are found in America. In spite of Premier Khrushchev's promises, it isn't going to be that way very soon, and Russians know it.

There is a growing resistance to the constant nagging of the party and government. Some time ago one of the perennial

"do-gooders" assigned to help police the streets tried to take a group of celebrating young men to the police station for singing too loudly in the streets at night. In the fracas the youths beat the man to death. One was sentenced to be shot and another to 15 years in prison. But less violent resistance shows up often. The great Anglo-Saxon desire to be let alone is showing up here although it is contrary to all Communist party discipline.

Despite Communist efforts to provide bread and circuses, life is drab for most people. In an organized sort of way, the Communist party tries to do something about it. The colorful church holidays and ceremonies have almost disappeared from Soviet life and there is a frantic effort to find something to replace them, for there is a slight drift back to religious ways.

NEW HOLIDAYS

"We invite you to create new holidays and make them gay and festive," said the labor paper, Trud, this spring. "Let there be new and beautiful rituals in factories, towns and mines," the paper said. It urged planting a tree by the father of a newborn.

A new apartment always is the reason for a wild party. That is easy to understand. Scores of thousands of families still live two to three families in a single room, with a common bathroom, and a common kitchen. Now it is practically forbidden to move into Moscow, while the city catches up with its housing.

Next: The agricultural muddle.

Wife Helps Hubby Sweep Chimneys

HEACHAM, England (AP) — Mrs. Hedy Waldock is a sweeping success. She's a chimney sweep. So's her husband Stanley. "He became so busy that I volunteered to help," said Austrian-born Mrs. Waldock who has nine children.

The reddish oval object in the southern half of Jupiter was first observed in 1664 by British scientist Robert Hooke. When first seen, it was brick red. Since then its color has varied from salmon pink to greenish white. The marking disappeared in 1713 and reappeared in 1831.

RIVER LAUNCH IS BOMBED IN CROWN COLONY

By CARL BLACKMAN
GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—A new upsurge of racial violence was feared in this tense British crown colony today after the bombing of a river launch carrying about 70 Negroes.

At least 10 laborers were reported killed in the blast from a time bomb Monday and another 23, including 8 children, were missing.

(A shortwave broadcast from British Guiana, heard in Miami, said at least 20 persons were killed in a bombing Monday night. Details were not given, and it was not clear whether the broadcast referred to the bombing of the launch or another attack.)

SEEK SURVIVORS

British army helicopters, police launches and private boats combed the muddy waters of the Demerara River for survivors from the launch.

This colony of 600,000 on South America's northern coast has been wracked for months by racial clashes between East Indians and Negroes. The East Indians slightly outnumber the Negroes.

The launch was blown up 25 miles from Wismar village, opposite the bauxite town of Mackenzie. Survivors said the explosion came from cargo bags 12 feet from the engine room.

FEAR REPRISALS

Fearing reprisals by the Negro population at Mackenzie, police put East Indians in the area under protective custody. Gov. Sir Richard Luyt ordered all arms seized in the area.

Mackenzie was the scene of fire riots a month ago in which nearly 200 houses were destroyed. The entire East Indian population was evacuated to Georgetown.

The British governor assumed full emergency powers June 13, bypassing Premier Heddji Jagan's government of East Indians.

Runaway Horse Damages Auto

WOODBURY, Conn. (AP) — An automobile and its driver came out second best in an encounter here with a horse. The horse, being led along the highway, bolted from its owner and ran into the path of a car driven by Dennis S. Ryan, 33. The driver suffered minor bruises when he was knocked out of the vehicle by the impact, and the car's side, hood, roof and windshield were damaged. But the horse was uninjured.

Canary Falls Into Good Home

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The new addition to Bob Westmeier's household literally fell out of the sky. Westmeier was walking downtown when a young canary fell at his feet. It obviously had been flying for some time and its strength was gone. Westmeier pocketed the bird, took it home and warmed it up. In time the canary began to peep a little and, when no one claimed the singer, Westmeier decided to give it a home.

SEES VIGOROUS WAR PROGRAMS IN S. VIET NAM

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor arrived in South Viet Nam Tuesday, declaring that the war programs already under way are sound but need "vigorous implementation and execution."

"I am sure that in the months to come we will see that vigorous implementation," Taylor said at Saigon Airport as more than 100 police and security agents stood guard.

"I have no illusions about the tasks that face your country in the days ahead," Taylor told the Vietnamese. "The fight against tyranny and injustice is never easy; the road to success is always long. But your brothers in the free world stand with you, and together—with determination, patience and resourcefulness—I know we shall prevail."

MET BY DEPUTY

Taylor, former chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, was greeted by his deputy ambassador, U. Alexis Johnson; Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, and Vietnamese protocol officials.

Tight security prevailed along Taylor's route into Saigon, where terrorists made two bomb attacks Monday, one against the U.S. Embassy. The bomb at the embassy did not explode.

Hundreds of police lined the road from the airport keeping it clear of traffic. Fighter planes roared overhead.

The Viet Cong liberation radio warned Taylor to stay out of Viet Nam or his life would be in danger.

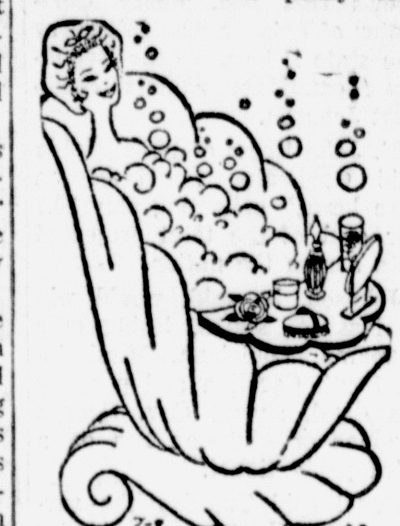

New Cars Startle Former Prisoner

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP) — When a prisoner was released from the Minnesota Penitentiary after 31 years behind walls, his first comment was: "Hey look at the cars; they look like they were made for midgets." His last look was in 1932, when cars had 30-inch wheels and room enough inside for a top hat.

If you are planning to prepare curried chicken ahead to reheat in the oven, you might like to sprinkle the top of the casserole with flaked coconut. As an accompaniment to the dish, serve mango chutney and ground roasted peanuts.

HOME SPA, COOL COMFORT.
One of the best summer resorts never gets a plug in the travel folders. But penny for penny, and day by day, it provides more cool comfort, beauty benefits and tension relief than you can get elsewhere. It's your own bathtub!

To reap those benisons, you have only to make a production of baths on hot afternoons or bedtimes. Start with a bath tray—a serving tray will do if it snugs into the tub's rim. On it place cleansing cream and tissue, a body brush and standing mirror; add a glass of fruit juice or a cup of hot tea.

Now plug the tub and place a fragrant bar of bath soap on top; let warm water gush in so that the soap froths and fill the water with sudsy bubbles. Meanwhile cap your hair.

One entubed, cream-cleanse your face. Then lie back and sip your beverage. The duo of warm water outside and beverage inside opens the pores to the extent where the suds cleans and the body heat escapes with extra efficiency. After a long soak, scrub the hands and feet. Then, as you let out the soapy water, let in warm rinse water and have a general scrub-up.

Before you are through you will be cleansed, rinsed and at peace with the world. And as cool as those fabled naiads in their mountain streams!

Bernard Wears Size B Pajamas

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A woman shopper told the clerk she wanted a pair of pajamas for her husband but didn't know the size. "Well," the clerk explained, "they run A, B, C and D." The woman thought for a moment then replied: "I better take size B. His name is Bernard."

MAP OF STARS WILL AID TRIPS TO OUTERSPACE

By JERRY BUCK
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — (AP) — In the days when the airplane was just a contraption and rockets were only a Fourth of July gim-crack, astronomers here began charting the roadmap to the stars.

On every clear night for the past 50 years astronomers at the University of Virginia have scanned the sky from the old Victorian-style observatory atop Mount Jefferson, recording the northern stars on glass plates.

Over the years the collection has built up, until now, with nearly 70,000 plates, it is the largest in the world.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes to use the plates to chart its rocket flights to the planets.

NASA's lunar mission personnel also use the university's 26-inch refractor telescope two nights a month to familiarize themselves with the moon's surface.

The collection of glass plates piled up in cabinets in the observatory year after year, with no thought that they might someday be used as a sort of intergalactic roadmap.

VALUE OF RESEARCH

This, said Dr. Laurence W. Frederick, head of the university's McCormick Observatory, is a perfect example of the value of basic research.

As rocket engineers discarded other means of navigation one by one they came back to the means that guided ancient sailors across the seas — the stars.

Radio and radar navigation, for instance, was ruled out because of the time lag. By the time a navigational correction could be beamed from earth back to the rocket the space

SHIFT IN RED U.N. POLICY IS SEEN POSSIBLE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials studied evidence today that the Soviet Union may be shifting its policy toward the United Nations.

Deep interest has been aroused here by Tokyo reports that the Soviet government is proposing the creation of a permanent U.N. military force.

The reported proposal, said to have been made in a note to the Japanese Foreign Office, could be the beginning of a significant change of attitude in Moscow toward the world organization, officials here said, but the evidence is far from conclusive.

U. S. VIEW

In the U.S. view, the Soviet attitude toward U. N. peace-keeping operations has generally been uncooperative. The Soviet government usually has objected to the employment of U.N. forces under orders from the General Assembly. The practice of action through the General Assembly was developed by the Western powers more than a decade ago to get around the Soviet Union's use of its veto in the Security Council to paralyze action there.

One of the developing U.N. crises centers around the Soviet Union's delinquency in paying U.N. assessments for peace-keeping activities. The Soviet Union faces a battle in the General Assembly session next fall over the loss of its vote there.

U.S. officials said that on the basis of the Tokyo reports they could not tell exactly what the Soviets intend by their proposal but assume that what they are calling for is the creation of a U.N. standing army.

ship would have traveled so far that still another correction would be needed.

Even the most infinitesimal error when stretched out over a 35-million-mile journey — say to Mars — could be disastrous.

THREE TELESCOPES

To navigate through space, a rocket would be equipped with three telescopes, each trained on a different star, Frederick said. Before the rocket leaves earth the angle to keep each telescope on its star to the axis of the orbit at every point of the flight would be programmed into a computer.

Keeping the space ship on target could then be done instantly and automatically by gyroscopes and computers.

Agriculture Dept. Issues Favorable Report On 1963 Corn Crop, Beef Experts

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The agriculture department has reported with pride that grower use of government price supports on 1963-crop corn fell sharply below recent years and that the amount of the grain to be turned over to the department as payment of loans will be 44 per cent less than a year earlier.

The report said that by June 15, 1963, a total of 581 million bushels of 1962 crop corn was stored under loans. This year the amount was only 426 million bushels.

The amount of corn that may be surrendered to the department, the report said, will be the smallest in five years.

PART OF STORY

But this tell only a part of the story. It is true that the 1963 crop was the largest of record. But the fact that a relatively small amount was put under loans and will be turned over to the government reflects a sharp reduction in supplies the government itself put on the market to compete with the 1963 crop.

Government sales of surplus corn between last Oct. 1, the beginning of the 1963-crop sales year, and June 19 was 107 million bushels—or only about one-sixth of the 623 million bushels the government had sold in the like period a year earlier.

Had government sales been of about the same size a year earlier, farmers would have sold much less to feeders and others needing the grain. The result would have been larger amounts stored under loans and moving into government hands.

GOVT. SALES RESTRICTED

The government restricted its sales during the 1963 crop year in a move to stabilize feed prices at levels that would discourage further expansion in livestock production.

Despite the smaller amount of corn likely to move into government hands, reserve and surplus stocks—most of which will be owned by the government—will be larger than a year earlier. Thus, on balance, the corn supply situation will end the 1963 crop marketing year Sept. 30 in not as good a position as a year earlier.

BEEF IN U.K.

The government reports that U.S. beef is meeting favorable buyer and press reaction in the United Kingdom.

Trial shipments of American beef were offered recently at Britain's major market. The United States has sold virtually no beef abroad for many years. But the current large supplies and low prices have encouraged the beef industry to seek markets in Europe.

The Agriculture Department said that when the American beef was put on display, more than the usual number of buyers for food stores, restaurants and institutions were attracted.

TRAIN RURAL YOUTH

The Agriculture Department suggests that the various state extension services look into the possibility of helping to train rural youth as waitresses, restaurant assistants, dining room hostesses, guides and baby sitters.

Such training, it said, could be of value especially in states with recreation areas and other facilities which draw tourists and vacationists.

SURVEY SAYS BARRY IS A "SURE LOSER"

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A pollster employed by Gov. Scranton, says his latest survey shows that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona wouldn't carry one state if he were the Republican candidate against President Johnson.

E. John Bucci of Philadelphia said Goldwater would be "a sure loser," collecting only 30.7 per cent of the total projected vote across the nation.

Johnson, he said, would win at least 45 states, losing only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and possibly Maryland, should Gov. George Wallace of Alabama run on a third party ticket.

Bucci said Tuesday the survey was ordered and paid for by Scranton, that it was completed in June—after Goldwater won the California primary—and was one of the reasons that Scranton decided to seek the GOP presidential nomination himself.

Bucci said his sampling reached 1,200 persons in seven states—Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Wisconsin and Missouri—and provided "barometer areas which enables us to project all across the nation."

Bucci said he didn't match Scranton directly against Johnson "because Scranton got into the race so late, there was no time."

He said a Goldwater candidacy would endanger eight present Republican Senate seats, 42 in the U.S. House and three governors, in Michigan, Montana and Rhode Island.

Ask Bus Guides To Maintain Privacy

NEW YORK (AP)—Sightseeing bus guides have been asked not to call attention to the hotel in which Mrs. John F. Kennedy will live when she moves here this fall.

City License Commissioner Joseph C. DiCarlo made the request Tuesday, saying: "The late president is entitled to the full dignity she deserves."

Crowds of tourists outside her Washington, D.C., home apparently were one of the reasons Mrs. Kennedy decided to move New York City.

VIET CONGS SHIFT CENTER OF EFFORTS

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Communists have shifted the center of their war effort in South Viet Nam from the swampy Mekong delta to the central highlands in the past 10 days.

Senior Vietnamese officers believe the Reds have moved troops in from North Viet Nam to get the war momentum moving in the highlands, a region that has been relatively quiet in the past 18 months.

In the past week, three battalion-size Communist assaults have erupted out of the central mountains. Two isolated special forces camps were hit.

BATTALIONS MOVED

Newsmen in the central Viet Nam capital of Hue were told Tuesday that the Communist battalion that hit the special force outpost of Nam Dong Monday had just moved in from North Viet Nam. The Communist unit was beaten off, but with severe government losses.

Two other Viet Cong attacks were launched in the region Monday. Vietnamese officers say one of the attacking battalions moved into Viet Nam recently from Laos. Another battalion had come into Viet Nam from the Cambodia-Laos area late last year.

An American spokesman told newsmen in Saigon that he was baffled as to the real reason for the sudden concentration of Viet Cong effort in the central area.

Driver Dies As Car Crashes Into Tree

HARRISBURG (AP)—James Shearer, 57, of Union Deposit, died Tuesday night as his car ran off Route 283, plowed through a wheat field and crashed into a tree.

Dr. Thomas J. Fritchey, Dauphin County coroner, ordered an autopsy to determine if Shearer was killed in the accident or if he was stricken prior to the time his car went out of control.

The accident occurred 1½ miles south of the Route 422 junction.

Cab Co. To Change To Metered Rates

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Ephrata Cab Co. has the green light from the Public Utility Commission to change from flat to metered rates starting July 19.

The company said the move, estimated to result in $3,500 in additional annual revenue, would eliminate losses.

In authorizing the meter system Tuesday, the PUC said rates will be 35 cents for the first half mile and 10 cents for each additional quarter mile. Present zone fares range between 35 cents and $1.20 per cab ride, depending on the distance traveled.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A passed ball with a man on third enabled the Springfield Giants to score the only run of the game as they blanked the Charleston Indians, 1-0, Tuesday night in Eastern League play.

Al Erickson scored the deciding run in the third inning of the game, after leading off with a double and going on to third on a ground out. He tallied on a passed ball by catcher Jack Hernandez.

Aside from that, it was a real pitchers' duel with Matt Gayeski giving up only three hits in winning his 10th game of the year against three defeats. The Indians' George Culver lost a tough one, giving the league-leading Giants only four safeties. Culver is now 7-6 on the season.

HICCUPS STOP AFTER 3 YEARS FOR WOMAN, 38

By JACK STILLMAN

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Today is a happy anniversary for Lucy McDonald. It is the anniversary of her bout with the hiccups.

The 38-year-old red-haired mother of three says she couldn't be happier. The hiccups stopped about a week ago.

Mrs. McDonald received thousands of letters, telegrams and telephone calls after an Associated Press story described her plight. Most suggested home remedies for curing the hiccups.

The remedy which apparently cured her came from a druggist for whom she now works. The pharmacist, Roy Faith, said: "I just gave her a drug which is commonly used. I cannot say what it was because I am not a physician and I cannot prescribe. The important thing is that she is cured."

EASIER BREATHING

Whether the hiccups have gone for good is a question, but Mrs. McDonald says this is the longest period of time she has been able to breathe with ease in a year.

"You can't imagine how thankful I am," she said. "It is such a little thing to be able to breathe without hiccuping. This was the worst year of my life."

Mrs. McDonald was a waitress until she lost her job because of hiccups constantly. She tried several other jobs. Each time she was discharged because of the hiccups.

She now works behind the soda fountain in the drug store.

MAJOR POWERS TO NEGOTIATE PEACE EFFORT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union appear to be moving into a major new negotiation on the future makeup, organization and financing of U.N. military forces employed over the world to deal with threats to peace.

The two powers differ sharply on the extent of control which should be vested as a practical matter in the Security Council rather than the General Assembly and on some other issues.

But State Department authorities said today they are encouraged by the latest Soviet move and believe that the Soviet government may be ready to open serious negotiations on these questions and to cooperate with the United Nations to a degree unknown in the past.

ASSESS SPLIT

These officials are trying to assess the Soviet Union's intentions in the light of its split with Red China and the fact that it is facing a loss of its vote in the United Nations because of refusal to pay assessments for past U.N. peace-keeping operations.

Disclosure of the Soviet move came Monday night with the release in Tokyo of a Soviet note to Japan calling for the formation of the U.N. military force under the Security Council, the troops to be supplied by the smaller U.N. members, including Communist countries. The five veto powers of the council would provide funds but no troops.

U.S. officials are still puzzled by the fact that the note was presented first to Japan and made public there by the Foreign Office.

The United States and Great Britain were not given official Soviet outlines of the proposal until Tuesday night.

June Jobless Rate Lowest Since 1953

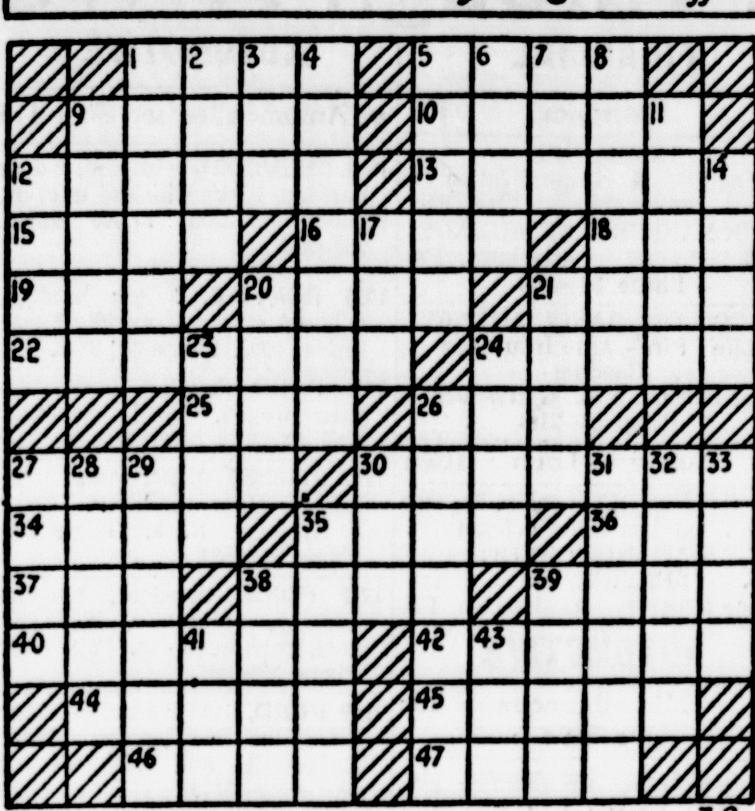

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Labor and Industry Department says unemployment in Pennsylvania last month was recorded at 274,000, lowest June level since 1953.

In its monthly report released Tuesday the department said the unemployment rate was 5.9 per cent, compared with 216,000 jobless workers, or 4.5 per cent of the work force, in June, 1953. Last month's figure was higher than that recorded for May when 250,000, or 5.5 per cent, of the state's workers were jobless.
